

SEMI-WEEKLY INTERIOR JOURNAL.

VOL. XXII.

STANFORD, KY., FRIDAY, JUNE 29, 1894.

NO. 35

LIBERTY, CASEY COUNTY.

—On Monday, Elder John B. Brown, now 80 years old, was in town for the first time in several years. He gave an entertaining reminiscence of his long and eventful life in various parts of Kentucky, and also in other States, concluding with an amusing account of his career as a magistrate. His looks are now of snowy whiteness, but we are in hopes that he may yet survive for years to come.

—There was not a great crowd in town on Monday, but a variety of business was done. The county republican committee was present, and likewise the candidates of that party, and made preliminary arrangements for the primary election to be held in August, by the candidates paying their dues. The chairman, Dr. I. C. Dye, tendered his resignation and provision was made for appointing a successor. Mr. M. E. Tarter then presented his claims before the party as a candidate for county attorney, followed by the present incumbent, T. C. Godfrey, who is aspiring for the same office.

—The Liberty Fair Association has been made up, and the stock has all been subscribed. The stockholders met at the court-house Monday evening and organized with the following officers: E. P. Combest, president; M. K. Humphrey, secretary; J. C. Conlter, Ed. Wilkinson, S. A. May, B. Rigney and F. C. Land, vice-presidents. R. T. Myers, treasurer; J. W. Hoskins, J. B. Reynerson, Hugh Thompson, R. A. Ruberts, S. J. Bell, H. W. Phillips, J. Wesley, Geo. M. Brown, Roy Benzley and W. E. McWhorter, directors. Committee on program, J. B. Reynerson, Geo. E. Stone, W. M. Myers, J. C. Conlter and J. F. Alstot. Though the time is not definitely fixed it is understood that it will be held about the last week in August.

—As it is known that on next Monday a vote will be taken here on the liquor question, both sides have been working for several weeks very busily, but not acrimoniously. After the candidates finished speaking, Elder J. H. Montgomery made a short address and introduced the Rev. F. Grider, of the Methodist church, who for sometime held the audience, at this time composed of both males and females, spellbound in an eloquent appeal against the re-establishment of the saloon in our midst. Elder Montgomery followed giving the past history of the saloon in Casey and contrasted it with the present. He urged the people to closely examine both sides, go to the polls and vote their sentiments.

The Southern Magazine for July appears in a new cover and is the concluding number of volume four. "Up the Coast from Panama" is an interesting article, written and illustrated by Walter Stearns Hale. The fiction contained in the number comprises "A Sand Mountain Aggression," by Francis Lynde; "The Boomer's Baby," by Pauline C. R. Stone; "Bailey's Funeral," by S. J. Shields, and "A Conscientious Look," by E. M. Pelletreau. The Editor's Table and Books and Writers offer amusing and intelligent criticisms, and the volume also contains instructive articles upon a variety of topics.

I have two little grand children who are teething this hot summer weather and are troubled with bowel complaint. I give them Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy and it acts like a charm. I earnestly recommend it for children with bowel troubles. I was myself taken with a severe case of bloody flux, with cramps and pains in my stomach, one-third of a bottle of this remedy cured me. Within 24 hours I was out of bed and doing my house work. MIDMORNING, JUNE 26.—Mingling with the honest yeomanry of "the State of Casey" is an exceedingly pleasant pastime, and very productive of health and happiness. They absolutely leave nothing undone to make the stay of visitors enjoyed, exerting all energy in this direction. The women can make biscuit rise higher, fry chicken better and cook everything else better than any people that can be found in a Sabbath day's journey. This can be attested by the young man who has been with us for the last few days climbing the cliffs and crossing ravines in search of squirrels, which in some portions of the county are said to be as thick as dillars are supposed to be in hedges.

The scenery in some portions of the county is more sublime than the most fertile imagination can picture. From the top of Benson's Knob, which is said to be one of the most commanding points in Kentucky, can be seen the beauties of nature in every direction from 15 to 30 miles with the naked eye, and the view is perfectly grand. Every town and point of interest can be seen from there, within a radius of the distance above named. The various adjoining knobs look like miniature mountains. On Benson's Knob is a cave of much note, several hundred feet in length and an interesting place to visit. A spring of crystal water on its summit is as cold almost as ice water and is a magnificent spot for a hunter's "lemonade stand," when he is weary and heavy laden with game. Yosemite is also in sight from there, but since it has become a modern battle-ground, we had no burning desires to venture closer. Nobody has been killed there in the last few days, however, I am told.

The corn crop in Casey is looking remarkably well and I noticed some in river bottoms that beats any in Lincoln or Boyle and is being "laid by." The other crops, I am told, are about the average.

The corn crop also seems to be good and I saw Harvey Helm shoot one out of the top of a large tree which weighed a few fractions less than 19 pounds.

Spears Fisher is always so glad to see his friends from Lincoln when they invade Casey that he shakes hands in a manner sufficiently cordial to be refreshing. He and his wife are proud of two of the brightest and handsomest boys in the county.

Mr. M. D. Royalty and his excellent wife and Mr. Virgil Coleman can dispense more genuine hospitality in less time than one very frequently witnesses, and I am prepared to furnish abundance of competent testimony in proof of this assertion.

An old gentleman in this county has a novel way of catching fleas. He carries a small piece of sheep skin in his pocket and when he feels a flea perambulating up and down his leg, he politely shoves the sheep hide up his trousers on the inside in close proximity to the intruder, and becoming entangled in the wool, the flea is immediately a prisoner and is then deliberately murdered in cold blood. Both sexes might try this with pleasant results.

Little need be said of its scenic beauty and health giving qualities. This place should not be overlooked by those figuring on a resort for their next summer's vacation. The tourist will find excellent fishing and boating at this point, and good hotel accommodations at very reasonable rates. For further particulars, maps, time tables, and guide books apply to Jas. C. "Many of the citizens of Painesville, Ind., are never without a bottle of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy in the house," says Jacob Brown, a leading merchant of the place. This Remedy has proven of so much value for colds, croup and whooping cough in children, that few mothers who knew its worth are willing to be without it. For sale by Dr. S. G. Hocker, Druggist, Stanford.

BRODHEAD, ROCKCASTLE COUNTY.

—Mr. A. G. Talbot has become a citizen of our town again and is now running a butcher shop at H. G. Howard's store.

—Mr. James Lee, supervisor of the R. & E. on the L. & N. Railroad, is here putting in a dam to furnish water for the tank at this place.

—Mr. Benben Lawrence, who lived about 14 miles out of town, died Friday evening and was buried on Saturday in the cemetery of the Christian church.

—There will be a picnic at Albright's grove, near Brodhead, on the 4th of July. The programme will consist of band music, speaking, foot races, wheelbarrow races, singing, etc. Everybody invited.

—Mr. J. R. Cass is attending court at Paris. Mrs. Mattie Carter, our energetic school-teacher, anticipates going to Ohio in the near future to spend some weeks with relatives. Mr. I. N. Newland, who has been sick for a few months, is some better but is still confined to his room. Mr. Newland is a good man and we would like to see him able to get out again.

—The Brodhead Band boys have purchased new uniforms and new instruments and are now ready and willing to furnish good music for any of the fairs in the country or other public gatherings. Our boys have been out considerable money to qualify and equip themselves so as to be profitable and entertaining and we would ask the public to consider their claims and have their figures before they employ musicians to do their work.

—The Masonic celebration at Woodstock was a great success. There were about 1,500 present. The program consisted of the Masons convening in the Hall at 10 o'clock, where they remained for a short time, after which they came down the stairway lead by a little white goat. They then formed a procession and marched up the Somerset road a few hundred yards and back to a stand located in a beautiful grove where they had prepared seats for the occasion. Then the crowd was called to order by J. B. Abbott and a short address of welcome by same. After this we were invited to partake of the hospitality of the Masons and good people of the community in the form of every necessary of life that a crowd of hungry men and women would appreciate, and it would have made the editor of the I. J. laugh to have seen about 40 of Brodhead's citizens, both ladies and gentlemen, working hard to make themselves physically able to drive back over the 15 miles of rough road they had come that morning. In the afternoon there was a speech by J. G. Carmichael. Then came Mr. John S. Van Winkle, editor of the Somerset Reporter, and last and not least A. J. Pike tried to tell what he knew about St. John's Day and Masonry. Between the speeches music was furnished by the Brodhead Brass Band who acquitted themselves very creditably.

DANVILLE.—Mrs. Sal e Veal Oelze, wife of Mr. R. L. Oelze, of Cloverport, and daughter of Mrs. Alice Veal, of this city, died in Louisville Monday afternoon. This death was peculiarly sad. On the 24th of January the deceased was married to Mr. Oelze and was a happy bride with bright promises for the future. Shortly after her marriage she was taken seriously ill, and despite every effort and resource that was employed and sought, she failed to improve. The remains were interred here.—W. E. McAfee is feeling good over the arrival of a fine colt by Nutwood, out of his Princess brood mare, a daughter of Rapidan, the dam of Lockheart and other good ones.—Howard, DeLong & Co., the contractors for the water works, began active operations this morning. Ground was broken for the foundation for the water tower, and to-morrow work will probably be started at the river.—Advocate.

—Prendergast, by the grace of a long suffering people, still unhung for the assassination of Mayor Harrison, says that the killing of Carnot was the work of a dastard, who should be put to death by degrees, cut to pieces inch by inch, his tongue pulled out and his carcass be given to the dogs. The killing of Harrison, he says, was different. "He was a murderer. He slaughtered people by refusing to elevate the railroad tracks. My object in shooting him was to benefit the community, and if my lawyers were not fools they would put in a plea of justification instead of one of insanity."

—Mr. Sheehan has sold nearly all of his western horses and they can be seen on the streets almost daily. Some people evidently have plenty of money as nearly all of them brought from $45 to $50.

—The Laurel County Fair will be held on Aug. 22, 23 and 25 instead of the days mentioned in my recent report. The directors decided to change the date. A base ball game each day will be a feature of the fair.

—Miss Nellie Hackney arrived from Cincinnati Wednesday, where she has been attending the Conservatory of Music. Although this is her first term she has been invited to participate in a concert to be given there shortly.

—Charles R. Baugh and Miss Laura E. Brock were married at the residence of the bride's father, D. R. Brock, Wednesday. Charley is book-keeper for the firm of Faris & Co., and has just completed, fitted and furnished a handsome residence for his bride. May their future be as bright to them as the present.

The assassination of President Carnot, of France, by an anarchist, continues to be the leading topic with all civilized nations. They stand appalled at the horrible crime, which in the last 30 years has twice had its counterpart in this country, when Presidents Lincoln and Garfield were cruelly slain. Their assassinations were the work of men, however, who acted on their own accounts. The killing of Carnot was the result of a conspiracy of those bloody and cowardly enemies of society, the anarchists, who sought revenge for the execution of their number, Henry and Vaillant. The French people are greatly aroused and in their frenzy they sacked the Italian quarter in Lyons and compelled the residents to flee for their lives. The assassin is an Italian and their ire is excited against all that class of their citizens. The anarchist is the worst of all law defiers to subdue. They do not seem to fear the consequences of their own deeds and are not deterred by guillotines or gibbets. Santo, the assassin of Carnot, was sure that his head would pay the penalty for his crime, yet he risked it with the utmost indifference. There is only one way to stop them—kill every man suspected of holding anarchistic views.

The Illinois democrats in convention assembled fought over a full endorsement of the present administration and finally adopted this, leaving the inference that it hasn't done all it might: "We endorse the action of President Cleveland and the public services of all democrats in executive and legislative stations, in all things that they have done to give force to the principles of the party as laid down by the Chicago convention of 1892." The convention nominated Franklin McVeagh for U. S. Senator, thus again endorsing the policy of electing such officers by popular vote. The Pennsylvania democrats nominated Editor W. M. Slingerly, of Philadelphia, for governor, and adopted a resolution heartily approving and endorsing the upright and sagacious administration of President Cleveland, which has fulfilled the pledges of his party and has satisfied the expectation of the people.

In his speech at Hutchinson Monday, Col. Breckinridge gave himself and Col. Craddock the entire credit for originating the idea of the World's Fair. He was for the enterprise heart and soul, but when he voted against the $5,000,000 appropriation for it, he incurred the lasting enmity of Chicago people, her press and the Union League Club, and "if Christ came to Chicago" with such a record, he would fare but little better at their hands than he. The candidates are indulging in fewer personalities than formerly and the interest in the canvass is in a measure subsiding.

The gold reserve in the treasury having gone below any former low watermark, some apprehensions have been felt for the public credit. President Cleveland says, however, that there is no cause for alarm. The treasury is in much better condition than when bonds were sold to replenish the gold reserve. All obligations will be met as they fall due and when Mr. Cleveland says the public credit will be maintained at all hazards, absolute confidence may be resumed.

WM. STACEY, the Iowa who went to Texas, and engaged in a land swindling scheme couldn't take a hint and in consequence he is no more. Some months ago a committee dragged him through a stock pond and told him to submerge. He didn't do it, but continued his swindling. Then he was given a coat of tar and feathers and ordered to leave instantly. Again he tarred and swindled, and Monday morning his cold and stark form was found dangling from the limb of a tree.

HON. J. W. KENDALL seems to have made his calling sure for nomination for Congress in the 10th district, and if he can make his election as sure, one of the republican calculations will go for naught. He has 36 instructed votes now, needing only one more to secure the nomination over a large field of contestants.

LABOR day has now been made a legal holiday, at least so far as Congress can do it, a bill to that effect having been passed and sent to the president for his autograph. This holiday business is getting to be a nuisance and if kept up we will not know what day we will be permitted to follow our usual avocations.

JOHN W. LEWIS, one of the cleverest of republicans, has been nominated for Congress in the 11th district, being given the honor on the first ballot. Of course he does not expect to be elected but he will be in line for something the next time a republican president is elected, if ever.

A FRAGMENT of the meeting of the republican league at Denver, Col., was a speech by Chairman Goudy in which he scored Gov. Waite as follows: "Do not judge us by the wild and vicious utterances of our anguinary executive, our so-called 'blood-to-the-brides,' boisterous, profane, turbulent, visionary, ill-tempered, inordinately ambitious, malicious and militia governor, who, though over 60 years of age and always able-bodied, never struck a blow nor fired a shot, nor did any substantial act in behalf of his country, or in behalf of any of the many States in which he has resided or tarried, or in which he has been the friend of labor for vote-getting purposes only. His disgraceful actions are mistaken by some for statesmanship on the principle that some people mistake billiousness for righteousness. He has afforded us amusement, but he has brought us contempt, sorrow, shame and loss of credit, and has helped to drive capital from our midst, and has done labor immeasurable harm."

The French do things in a hurry. M. Casimir-Perier has been elected president and Santo's trial for the assassination of President Carnot is set for July 23d. The latter will occupy a very short time and within two weeks thereafter the bloody rascal's head will drop in the basket. That's the way to execute the law and is in marked contrast with our slow going machinery. Prendergast killed Harrison last October and he is yet to be tried for lunacy, though such cattle should be hung whether insane or not. The new president of France is a staunch republican and belongs to a prominent family. He is said to be a strong man and his election is regarded as an excellent solution of a very complex matter.

Growing impatient at tarrying so long and fearing that he was going to live always, Abe Kersey, aged 57, hung himself at his home in Jessamine county. He was an honest man and perhaps didn't want to cheat the devil longer of his dues.

The bald-headed editor of the Frankfort Capital, Mr. George L. Willis, makes this startling and original announcement in his editorial column: "Spring has come and is gone, summer has come and is going, the autumn will soon be here."

—Near Mt. Sterling English Anderson son of the well-known short-horn breeder, T. Corwin Anderson stabbed and instantly killed George Alexander. They quarrelled over who should turn out in the road, they being in wagons, meeting each other.

—Joseph Whitsett, of Millville, N. J., seriously stabbed his wife, fatally cut his daughter's throat with a razor and then set fire to his house and lay down in the parlor to be burned to death. He was rescued by firemen, but the house was destroyed.

—The indications are that the State Treasury will expend for an indefinite period June 30. The back taxes, amounting to $200,000, due July 1st, have already been anticipated, and warrants covering that amount have already been issued by the Treasury.

—Henry McClannahan, the old colored servant of Congressman McCreary, was found dead in bed at the McCreary residence at Richmond. He had been a member of the household for 20 years. During that time he continued a staunch republican, but always voted for Mr. McCreary.

—In deciding a point raised by counsel, the judge announced that he will instruct the jury in Prendergast's case that the defense must prove that the assassin has become insane since his last trial. Otherwise the former verdict must stand even though Prendergast be found insane at the present time.

—A daring train robbery occurred on the Savannah, Florida and Western at Homerville, Ga. Six masked men held up the train, and, after blowing open the door of the express car, took $1,222 in cash. They then uncoupled the engine and ran to a point 11 miles distant, whence they took to the woods.

—With one exception the severest wind storm which has visited Louisville since the cyclone of March 27, 1890, occurred Tuesday. Roofs and portions of houses were blown away, trees were twisted off and electric wires gave exhibitions which startled the spectators. Many people were hurt, but no one was killed.

—Joy and sorrow mingled strangely at the Capital of the Canadian Dominion. A message of condolence was sent by the government to the French Cabinet on the assassination of Sadi Carnot in the morning, and at night another message from Sir John Thompson, prime minister, assured the queen of Canada's joy at the birth of an heir to the British throne in the third generation.

—The boycott of the American Railway Union against Pullman sleeping cars has resulted in 11 roads from Chicago being tied up or crippled. The Southern Pacific is tied up in California and the Cincinnati Southern was to be the point of attack yesterday. In anticipation of this the trainmen of the latter road have been made deputy United States marshals.

—Eight heavily-loaded freight cars were uncoupled from the train in the L. & N. yards at Paris, and the brake not being set, the cars ran down the track a mile before the city and ran into another freight coming toward Paris. When the crash came all eight of the cars and several of the cars on the train were wrecked. The loss to the railroad was appraised at $25,000. The engineer never left his engine until it stopped at the foot of the embankment, but did not receive a scratch.

ORDER OF ELECTION.

Lincoln County Court Held June 11, 1894, Hon. W. E. Varnon, Judge, Presiding.

A copy of the judgment of the Lincoln Circuit Court in the case of W. B. Penny and others Plaintiff, against W. E. Varnon, Judge of the Lincoln County Court, upon a motion for a writ of Mandamus, was on the 11th day of June, 1894, served upon the defendant as judge aforesaid by his accepting same, the position of said judge, and awarding the writ of mandamus, in its words and figures as follows, to-wit:

Lincoln Circuit Court.

W. B. Penny, and others, Pls. vs. Judgment.

W. E. Varnon, Judge of Lincoln Co. Court, Def.

This case was submitted by the parties upon a stipulated statement of the question in controversy and of the facts on file, and upon the affidavits of the parties, and the court being advised in its opinion, and so adjudged that it was its legal duty of the defendant as judge of the Lincoln county court to order the election asked for by plaintiffs in their petition to said defendant, and that plaintiffs are entitled to the remedy sought by their motion; their motion is therefore sustained, and the writ of mandamus is awarded against W. E. Varnon, Judge of the Lincoln County Court, by which he is commanded at the next regular term of the Lincoln County Court to enter upon the order book of his court an order directing an election to be held in and for the city of Stanford and directing the Sheriff of Lincoln county to hold an election and open a poll therefor at each of the voting places in said city, for the purpose of taking the sense of the legal voters of said city upon the proposition whether or not spirituous, vinous or malt liquors shall be sold, bartered or loaned therein. Inasmuch as, by reason of the refusal of defendant to make said order at the regular term of said court when plaintiffs' application was made, it is now too late to hold said election on the day designated in the plaintiffs' petition, to-wit: On the 23rd day of June, 1894, and at the same term enable the sheriff to comply with the requirements of the law, that the said election should be advertised by him at least two weeks before the day of election, the defendant is commanded in his said order for said election to be another and later day as reasonably near the day asked for by plaintiffs as will afford ample time for the advertisement thereof required by law. And this writ of mandamus lie in no wise open to objection. In obedience to the command in said writ as above fully set out and it appearing that the money to pay the expenses of said application are by law required to pay has been paid into court: It is ordered that an election be held in the city of Stanford, Ky., on the 7th day of July, 1894, between the hours of 7 A. M. and 4 P. M. A poll to be opened at each of the voting places in said city for the purpose of taking the sense of the legal voters of said city upon the proposition whether or not spirituous, vinous or malt liquors shall be sold, bartered or loaned therein, the result of said election to be certified to and returned as required by law in the election of county officers.

The following officers are appointed to hold said election:

Voting Precinct, No. 1. I. M. Bruce and R. K. Wearlen, Judges, W. B. Penny, clerk, J. D. Jones, sheriff.

Voting Precinct, No. 2. A. G. Eastland and J. H. Engleman, Judges, J. R. Hales, sheriff, C. C. Carson, clerk.

Voting Precinct, No. 3. J. M. Hall and J. K. VanArsdale, Judges, Joseph Colley, sheriff, Wm. Severance, clerk.

Attest: GEO. B. COOPER, Clerk Lincoln County Court.

UNRIVALED!

Are the low prices which continually prevail with us. We are awakening the people for miles around to the knowledge that we are selling goods at least 15 per cent. cheaper than our neighboring competitors. We have made a convincing argument to this effect by selling shoes for $1 that elsewhere cost $1.25, suits of clothes for $3 that elsewhere cost $5. This an argument which is bound to be convincing to those who investigate.

Our Stock

Is getting low but we are still supplying our customers with everything in nice and new goods that the eastern market affords. But they will not last much longer as the following received from the proprietors of this establishment shows you.

IN the annual readjustment of salaries, the postmaster at Richmond is reduced from $1,800 to $1,700, Harrodsburg from $1,700 to $1,600, Lancaster from $1,200 to $1,100, Pineville, Somerset and Williamsburg are each increased $100. Stanford and Danville hold their own.

THE railroad company and Thomas Dalton, proprietor of the Carpenter House, are fixing up a nice little flower garden between it and the track, which adds much to the appearance of the place, besides keeps the space from being used as a pass way and endangering teams and vehicles.

THE examining trial of Ike and G. S. Shelby for shooting J. F. Moore at Junction City a month ago was held before County Judge Caldwell at Danville Wednesday, who held them in $500 each to the circuit court. Col. W. G. Welch defended and Messrs. Breckinridge and Harding prosecuted.

JULY 1st is almost at hand and with it comes another semi-annual settling time. In summing up the amount of your indebtedness don't fail to include what you owe this office either for your paper, for job work or for advertising, as you will certainly be asked for the money. And when we ask for money we mean we want it.

THE Four Seasons Hotel at Harrodsburg, Tenn., has been ordered closed on a foreclosure of the first mortgage, by Judge Key, of the United States circuit court at Knoxville, and will be sold at auction in September. The buildings and grounds cost $1,250,000 and it has lost money for its English owners from the start. Since February it has been run by a receiver and in that time has sunk $57,000.

THERE will be a declamatory contest at Walton's Opera House about the time of the fair between Logan Hughes, Tommy Shanks, Ashby Warren, Will Hocker, Richard Bush and Sam Burch. Miss Anne Shanks has consented to drill them and in addition to the contest will have her kinswoman, Madame Cecelia Eppinghausen Bailey, of Chicago, a vocalist of much power and renown, to sing several times during the evening. The proceeds are for a worthy object and it is expected that the house will be filled.

WILL LOVE was arrested here and taken to Lancaster yesterday by Marshal Arnold for shooting at another colored man, Ige Perkins at a hop there Wednesday night.

MANY noted educators are attending the State Meeting at Danville and the occasion is proving a pleasant and profitable one. It will close with an interesting program to day.

A HEAVY rain fell Tuesday night and another Wednesday, but the atmosphere continues heated beyond comfort. The weather service yesterday said it would be generally fair, and slightly cooler by Friday night.

I HAVE bought Mr. Hocker's interest in our store and will form a partnership with Mr. W. H. Higgins. After July 1st our stocks will be united. I desire to thank my friends for past patronage and ask a continuance in the future on the corner of Main and Depot streets. W. B. McKinney.

CIRCUIT COURT practically adjourned Tuesday, though a session will be held to-morrow to sign up orders, &c. The docket has been nearer cleaned up than for years. Two men were given penitentiary terms, Ollie Paul, eight years for murder, and Jim Evans four years for horse-stealing, and they will be taken to Frankfort Saturday. Mrs. Isaac Hamilton was granted a divorce from her husband and J. W. James was fined $51 for selling whisky on the partnership license after he had bought out Mr. J. F. Holman. The case was taken to the Court of Appeals, there being several against Mr. James of the same nature. Mr. G. L. Penny, trustee of the jury fund, tells us that the pay of the jurors this term amounts to $912.

MATRIMONIAL MATTERS.
—Miss Emma Juch, the prima donna, was named on the 25th of F. L. Wellman, assistant district attorney of New York.
—Mr. G. W. Bratcher, a Madison county widower of 47, was married in this county Tuesday to Miss Bettie Russell, a sweet sixteen.
—Robert Fitzsimmons, the champion middle-weight prize-fighter, was married Monday to Miss Rosalie Julia Sanwell, of Melbourne, Australia.
—Rev. Eugene Bell, of Shelby county, and Miss Charlotte Witherspoon, eldest daughter of Dr. and Mrs. T. D. Witherspoon, were married in Richmond Tuesday night.
—Rumor has it that a clever bachelor who has recently embarked in the mercantile business here and an elegant lady whose business was somewhat affected by the last change of administration, are to wed ere many moons wax and wane.
—Another couple has started their married life auspiciously by having the knot tied in Stanford. Wednesday morning, Mr. W. H. Beazley, a worthy young druggist of Crab Orchard, and Miss Adie Herria, a lovely young lady of the same vicinity, were made one by Elder W. N. Briney in the parlors of the Myers House, Dr. W. J. Edmiston and Miss Mand Pettus acting as attendants. Immediately after the ceremony the party returned to Crab Orchard, where doubtless the fatted calf had been prepared for them. May love's young dream never know awakening and always prove that there is nothing half so sweet in life as this.

CHURCH AFFAIRS.
—The United Brethren Church at Georgetown, near New Albany, Ind., was struck by lightning and burned.
—Dr. Johnson said: "A woman preaching is like a dog walking on his hind legs; it is not done well; but you are surprised to see it done at all."
—The Agitator, a religious quarterly published at Falmouth, is edited by four brothers, all of different denominations. It is little wonder they agitate things.
—Mrs. Julia Craig Dunn has selected "The Holy City" to sing at the Christian Endeavor Sunday evening next, and the members are anticipating a rare treat.
—A protracted meeting will begin at the Hustonville Baptist church next Sunday morning. Rev. Milliken, of Louisville, will conduct it and will preach at night only.
—The Cleveland Convention of Christian Endeavor Societies promises to be the biggest convention ever held in the world. The fare for the round trip from Lexington will be $9.65. The excursion train will leave Lexington July 11th, at 4:25 A. M.

FARM AND TRADE ITEMS.
—Stanford Fair, July 19 and 20.
—G. V. Dalgren has bought Ida Pickwick for $5,000.
—Gen. Castleman has bred his great saddle mare, Emily, to Gay Bros' Highland Denmark.
—Connor, Warren Russell's C. F. Clay stallion, was given a mile in 2:17 at Danville the other day.
—Prince Wilkes, 2:14, has been brought back from South America and is now being worked in California.
—Corn never looked better and the prospects are that there will be the largest crop raised in years. Old corn is scarce at $2.75 per barrel.
—John Anderson bought in the East End, 16 fat heifers and steers at $10.50 to $16. He also sold to George Harris a brood mare for $90.
—Entries are already coming in to the rich saddle stallion and saddle mares and geldings stakes notwithstanding they do not close till July 10th.

—John B. Foster sold 67 hogs, 180 lbs. average, to J. W. Adams at 4 1/2c. Mr. Adams shipped them to Cincinnati, lost two by death and made $12 on the lot.

—Bear in mind the rich stakes for sad die stallions and saddle mares and geldings at the Stanford Fair on Thursday and Friday, July 19 and 20. Write for entry blanks.

—Yeager & Yeager bought of George D. Hopper, a bay mare for $55, a sorrel of Will Baughman at $75 and a gray team of six-year-olds from R. J. Marks, Louisville, for $250.

—W. A. Tribble sent us the following from Harrodsburg yesterday: "Kate Malloy took the first tin in the saddle stake, Sadie Graves second and Matt Cohen's entry third." We know the old fellow feels good. He's got the greatest mare in the country.

—The Auditor's report shows that the total tobacco crop of Kentucky in 1893 was 203,301,724 pounds, as compared with 201,116,315 for the previous year. Daviess county is the banner tobacco county of the State, it showing the largest crop. Christian county is second.

There personally appeared before me, justice of the peace in and for Lincoln county, William Wright, Dr. James Riffe, and Milton Reynolds, who state on oath that they are the parties who valued the cow, an estray on the farm of A. C. Dunn. The said cow is a speckled roan, about 10 years old; she has the bush of her tail off; she will weigh about 950 pounds. They furthermore state that they regard her as worth eighteen dollars. ($18.) Said cow came to A. C. Dunn's, Apr 23, 1894.

Dear Sir:—
After mature and careful consideration, we have decided that it is best to the interest of ourselves and customers to adopt a strictly CASH business, from July 1st, next.

In doing this we do not say that those who sell on credit rob their customers, nor do they charge them up with the bad debts, for we believe you will join us in saying we have sold good goods as cheap as any one. You will naturally ask, what then is to be gained by our customers in our making this change? As a part only, of the advantages will say, it will enable us to do business on much smaller capital; then we will have no books to keep, which has required the constant work of one person. The interest on excess capital, as also on amount on our books and salary of book-keeper, makes a large sum, which we propose to give to our customers in lower prices.

We assure you we appreciate the generous trade you have always given us and ask you to continue to trade with us under the new order of things, and we believe you will find it to your interest to do so. We intend to keep our stock fully up to what it has been heretofore and expect to add several new lines of goods, to make it the complete stock to be found in our city.

When we say our terms are cash; we mean by that we will keep no books, make no "tickets for a few days," but cash down when the goods are sold. We intend to treat all alike; one price to all and that the lowest. You will always find that you can buy 100 cents worth of good goods for every dollar you spend with us.

Thanking you for past favors, we are, Yours Truly.

CURES SCROFULA

Mrs. E. J. Rowell, Medford, Mass., says her mother has been cured of Scrofula by the use of four bottles of S.S.S. after having had much other treatment, and being reduced to quite a low condition of health, as it was thought she could not live.

Cured my little boy of hereditary scrofula which appeared all over his face. For a year I had given up all hope of his recovery, when finally I was induced to use S.S.S. A few bottles cured him, and no symptoms of the disease remain.

THE AGE OF WOMEN.

COMPARISON OF THE SEX IN ENGLISH SPEAKING COUNTRIES.

Miss C. H. Spence, the Well Known Australian Writer and Lecturer, Relates a Few Facts and Expresses Sundry Opinions—Arguments For Woman Suffrage.

There are English speaking women as well as men domiciled in all the continents and in almost all the islands of the world. "Mother of Nations" is Britain's proudest title, and the new nations she has planted, whether separated or still under the wing of the empire, hold from her in their history, traditions, language and literature. Where Englishmen and Americans go they take their wives and families with them and endeavor to make a home.

English speaking women in the old country, in America, in Canada, in India, in South Africa and in Australasia are more like to each other than they are to peoples much nearer to them who have a different language and a different history. Cross the strait of Dover and you find people whose laws, manners, religion and tastes differ as well as their language from those of the Anglo-Saxon race. Distance and climate cannot separate as much as language and history ally, and the nation making race brings with it an environment which subdues all who come within the influence of its hugeage.

Contrast the manner in which the United States within a generation Americanizes her young foreigners in her public schools with the failure of Canada to assimilate her French subjects, who were allowed to keep their own language. The French Canadians are more French than the French themselves, more Catholic than modern Italians and Spaniards and perhaps more conservative than any people in the world, though close to the progressive province of Ontario and the United States.

Our mother tongue is therefore the mighty chain that binds us in union. I have indeed been sometimes called a foreigner in an official sense, not being an American citizen, but a British subject, whose home is in Australia. Where people read the same books they are apt to think similar thoughts and to have kindred aims. And I can never meet with more brotherly and sisterly fellow workers than have clasped hands with me in America. Our history down to a certain point is the same, and though recent developments vary in various quarters of the globe we are all marching on, and every step in the right direction taken by any of us aids true progress for all.

Yet there are distinctions between the women in the various latitudes and longitudes even the more interesting on account of their fundamental agreement. And the most striking thing to me is the manner in which American women have successfully invaded every field formerly held as a masculine preserve and have become a great industrial army not only of hand workers and housekeepers, but of head workers in professions and in every branch of educational and clerical work.

It was not till 1796 that the Boston schools were open to girls as pupils. It was only in 1830 that Massachusetts employed women to teach in the schools. And now seven-eighths of the teachers in the public schools are women and perhaps more in the Sunday schools.

Coeeducation in schools and in university, and where the latter cannot be obtained universities for girls open to them in all states of the Union, and the higher education as far as it can be had eagerly seized by the sex, which was excluded from the schools altogether a century ago, have made a great change in the relations of the sexes to each other. We no longer look on marriage as the great business of life in America. The exploded idea lingers in novels and novelettes, but in real life it is felt that financial independence and the capacity for earning a livelihood secure women from having to marry for a home. Real love makes the self supporting woman give up her independence, but the dependent woman was tempted to accept any man who seemed willing and able to provide for her.

There is a quietness and simplicity in the dress of the educated working woman in America which I am told has gradually come into favor. At first girls would go to the office in cheap silks and startling hats, but now they have learned both what is serviceable and what is suitable. The earnings of these American women are higher compared with those of men than they are in England or in Australia. I think they are generally better fed and clothed than women in the same work with us in Australia, and they are immensely more numerous. They come out of families in better circumstances. I think the democratic air of America fosters the idea that it is honorable to earn the bread we eat, and that a superannuated idle daughter is as great an embarrassment as an idle son.

If women are thus strong in the schools, in the professions and in the offices of America, what shall we say of them in the churches? Mark Twain, in his own humorous way returning thanks for the toast of the ladies, said that "without women men would be scarce," and without women we may truly say that the churches would be nearly empty. Not only by their bodily presence and their regular attendance do they cheer the pastor's heart, but all the organizations which radiate from the church as a center depend on women entirely. I heard of a city where there were 14 organizations of women, charitable, religious and literary, and only one organization of men, and that was a baseball club.

It used to be said that women could not organize, for they were full of petty jealousy and spite, but that was when the men wrote the books and made the proverbs. Nowadays, when the women write more books and read more books than the men, and when they, too, can crystallize into a pungent phrase wisdom and satire, they can show the other side of the shield. It flattered masculine vanity to suppose that women were so eager for their admiration that they quarreled with each other about it. French novels written almost exclusively by men still perpetuate the idea that woman seeks power by influence, generally sinister, over the senses and working on the self love of men.

English and American novels are pleasant reading, and the more independent women become the less need will find of this outlandish competition for ascendancy over the stronger sex.

It seems a paradox that American, where women are a greater social force than anywhere under heaven, should give less political power to women than she has in other English speaking countries.

We have had the municipal vote for women taxpayers and householders in my province of South Australia since 1864, several years before it was given in England itself. American women are still struggling for the unadvised vote and for the school vote, and this is all the more remarkable because the battle is to be fought state by state, and not like the presidential or the congressional vote, to be carried all over the Union at once.

Wyoming was exceptional, for it had woman suffrage before it was created into a state, but it is remarkable that New Zealand, an English colony, and Colorado, an American state, conferred full suffrage on their women by the votes of men within a very few weeks of each other. In both Colorado and New Zealand the women seek moral reform, the making of better laws and more faithful enforcement of such laws as already exist.

The world is watching intently the course of legislation and of administration in communities where equal rights for both sexes are recognized.

According to the apparent results, will the example be copied or avoided.
